

Hayden Maringer

b. June 25, 1991

Lady Gaga once called him “Amazing!” and it’s not hard to understand why. Guitar prodigy Hayden Maringer is a rising star. Born on June 25, 1991 in Sacramento, California. At age 3, he received his first guitar as a gift from his parents and from that point forward his life was consumed by music.

At 12, he impressed rock legend Frank Hannon of Tesla with this youthful talent. Later that year, Hayden won his first award at the Great American Guitar Competition. Another at the Graham Music Competition soon followed that. He was quickly a very high in demand session player and musician in the northern California area. Music took over his life, and he developed his own style, influenced by the styles of Rock, Fusion, R&B, Jazz, Pop, and Blues.

Hayden’s skills continued to develop through disciplined study. He became a well-recognized Session Musician, Musical Director, Programmer, Arranger, Transcriber, Teacher, Producer, and Touring Guitarist. He began transcribing songs for Guthrie Govan, who applauded his excellent work. Hayden was accepted on the World Tour Scholarship to Berklee College of Music in Boston, after placing in the top 1% of all international auditions. He was awarded the Berklee Academic Competitiveness Grant, and joined music legends Steve Vai and John Mayer on the Berklee Dean’s List. His commitment to excellence has been recognized by many of today’s top major label artists who have invited him to share their stage.

At 17, Hayden auditioned for Lady Gaga’s World Tour. Out of thousands of the worlds top professional musicians Hayden made it to the very end. She assured him: “You’re going to be famous!” The audition gave him recognition by other major label artists and Hayden began touring exclusively.

Hayden has performed countless shows and tours all over the world working with artists such as Jennifer Lopez, Demi Lovato, The Band Perry, and many more. Performing on National Television programs such as the American Country Music Awards, Billboard Awards, American Idol, MTV, Late Night with Jimmy Fallon, The Ellen Degeneres Show, Disney, QVC, and Good Morning America to name only a few. Music directing, producing, and programming for artists on tours such as The One Direction “Take Me Home” World Tour, Demi Lovato World Tour, Greyson Chance Asia Tour, Miranda Cosgrove “Dancing Crazy” Tour, and numerous others. Not only has he established himself as a Music Director/ Guitarist but also as an actor working as the lead guitar player on the Fox hit TV show Glee. Hayden's love for Film and TV led to his involvement in Sound Design and TV/Film Scoring. Scoring for Universal on films such as “The Scorpion King: Quest For Power” and on TV networks for BBC and Ford. Whether it be touring the world, programming a tour, producing a record, or scoring for TV/Film, the sky is the limit for Hayden. His unique style, hard work, professionalism, and amazing talent stuns all who witness it.
